Anti-Reds Take Lead In Voting

Anti-Reds Take Lead In Voting

Leftist domination of "Red North" is also threatened.

By JOHN P. MCKNIGHT

ROME, April 19.—(AP)—Early returns in Italy's momentous elections gave anti-Communists a long lead Monday for the new Senate and threatened leftist domination of the so-called "red north."

Premier Alcide de Gasperi's Christian Democrats were ahead of the Communist-dominated Popular Front even in Turin, Venice and Florence, all under Communist municipal administration. The Vatican-backed Christian Democrats led in the north.

Leaders were cautious about basing predictions on the senate returns, involving 257 elective seats because they felt the vote of the senate would be less than the real barometer of the nation's feeling on Communism.

Milan, in the heart of the strongly leftist north, was giving the Catholic premiers party a comfortable lead over the Popular Front. Unofficial returns from Milan were in the 30-40 per cent range.

The voting was extremely heavy in the north, where the eligible electors were regarded as good news for the anti-Communists.

At Rome, the voting was a block away from de Gasperi's home, the Christian Democrats led the vote.

Budget Next Big Measure for House

Quiet Weeks Probably Ahead For Members at Ottawa

OTTAWA, April 19.—(CP)—The symptoms of crisis apparently drained out of the freight-rate issue, Parliament heads into several weeks which promise a relatively uneventful prelude to budget day.

Finance Minister Abbott's budget, now anticipated sometime in May, is the most immediate matter of development of the Ottawa political horizon. Its contents already have been the subject of considerable speculation, with the chief interest centring in the possibilities of large income tax cuts and that there will be and that there won't be.

ABBOTT SILENT
Mr. Abbott, maintaining the customary absence of intimations, also has rejected any attempt in the Commons to gather just when his budget will come down.

The week immediately ahead probably will see the freight rates issue brought to a head Tuesday in Commons' votes on two opposition amendments which amount to non-confidence motions.

Any threat that the government would be overturned by re-elected Liberals and western Liberals was wiped away last week when Prime Minister Mackenzie King told a party caucus that the question was hardly one on which to fight a federal election.

TORY MEETING
The week also will be noteworthy for the annual meeting of the Progressive Conservative Association, expected to draw 100 delegates to the capital, it is estimated. A head of the CCF's national council that met to lay plans for the annual convention at the University of Winnipeg, Aug. 12 to 14, about the time a Liberal convention in Toronto will be naming a new leader.

Another big issue of the present session—western aid—may see some development during the week as the Commons committee on veterans' affairs sits through three meetings on the bill containing the government's proposed 10 to 20 per cent increase.

Members may get down to a vote on motions for increases of 25 and 33 1/3 per cent, even though Veterans Minister Gregg has informed them that the government will go no further this session.

CAME FROM PROTESTS
His present proposals grew out of protests from all parts of the original announcement last December that pensions for disabled veterans and widows would go up to 30 per cent but that there would be no change for the widows.

Meanwhile the railway committee has been studying the operations of the Canadian National Railways and Trans Canada Air Lines.

Gen. de Gaulle Asks Election for France

By Carl Hartman
MARSEILLE, April 19.—(AP)—Gen. Charles de Gaulle yesterday called for an immediate general election which, he said, would enable him to head a strong government capable of facing the peril of Russia.

Almost simultaneously, Premier Robert Schuman, a de Gaulle political rival, announced he would ask Parliament to adopt new military reorganization laws because of the unsettled international situation. Schuman gave no details but said the plan would cut the country's indispensable minimum in money and men.

Govt. Keeping Dollar Control
TORONTO, April 19.—(CP)—The government controls the use of the United States dollars, on credit and restrictions on imports will continue as necessary instruments of Canadian post-war recovery, Donald Gordon, deputy-governor of the Bank of Canada, said yesterday on a University of Chicago radio table talk.

The operation of a free and unhampered economy will, in the long run, prove best for Canada and the rest of the world, Gordon said, but he added that the "pre-emptive" abolition of government controls is the correction of the fundamental disequilibrium in world trade arising from the unequal impact of war.

OTHER SPEAKERS
Gordon was joined in the discussion of "Canada and the discussion of world trade" by W. A. Macdonald, chairman of the department of economics of Queen's University, Kingston, Ont., and J. Friedman, associate professor of economics at the University of Chicago.

Canada's economic problems arise from the fact that she is forced to pay cash for American goods while Canadian goods are being sold in Western Europe countries on credit, resulting in a rapid decline of dollar reserves, Gordon said. To halt the drain of American dollars, imports were curtailed and in some cases prohibited and exports were rationed.

"Canada must have regard for her vulnerable position as a large exporting power and must recognize the vital need to see her customers in Western Europe established so they can buy for cash out of their own earnings."

Watchfulness Of Reds Urged

WINNIPEG, April 19.—(CP)—A call for greater watchfulness against the "red" and "black" of Communism was issued by Capt. A. M. St. Laurent, Canadian Minister of Defence, during the week-end.

There were three times as many sea cadets as were enrolled before the war. The youth of 16 was present, and the sea cadet movement is equipped to meet, said Capt. Macgregor.

Delegates expressed expansion of the sea cadet movement, the continuation of club and hotel operations for merchant seamen, the combating of all subversive influences and the improvement of the league's educational program.

Labor to Fight Alberta Govt.

Defeat at Polls Only Recourse Now Remaining

Defeat of members of the Alberta legislative assembly and even the government itself because of recent Labor Act amendments will be urged at a conference of Canadian Congress of Labor representatives in Calgary on May 8.

This statement came today from Jan. Lasker, chairman of the provincial committee.

About 75 delegates from provincial affiliates of the Canadian Congress of Labor, said to represent 12,000 union workers in Alberta, will attend the conference held under the auspices of the provincial committee of the Congress.

Amendments to the Alberta Labor Act approved at the recent session of the provincial house provided stiff penalties for illegal strikes and lockouts.

Known as Bill 91, the amendments were bitterly opposed in the legislature by the Canadian Congress of Labor representatives.

In a letter to union affiliate heads in the province, Jan. Lasker, chairman of the provincial committee of the Congress points out that the only action now open is defeat at the polls of members of the house who support the bill.

Fraternities delegates from the Saskatchewan and Manitoba have also been invited to the Calgary conference.

Flyers Shade Reos In Crash Cup Final

As Lane Fires Big Goal

By Stan Mohr

Doug Lane fired his first goal of the season at the Arena Saturday night and more or less set the strength of it Flyers swept into the Allan Cup finals.

Lane's long overdue tally (he used to get two and three on his good nights), followed by pair from the slick stick of Bill Merluk, provided the Western Canada League kings with a 3-2 triumph over Winnipeg Reos. It made it four times Flyers had knocked off the Manitobaans in five tries.

Net result is that for the first time in the 32 year history of the Allan Cup an Edmonton team will represent the west in the final round.

Champagne Flows in Flyer Dressing Room After Game

There wasn't much action on the ice as Flyers finally put down Reos for the count but the victors and vanquished more than made up for it in the dressing rooms afterwards.

The champagne flowed in limited quantities as both the Joe Gangwish (WCHL) and T. B. Fulton trophies were christened in traditional style. Nobody got hurt, of course.

The Patton mug was presented for competition back in 1925 . . . it's a likely looking piece of silverware engraved with such one famous names as Winnipeg Flyers, Regina Victorias, Winnipeg Falcons and more . . . Apparently some backtracking was done after the Patton trophy had made with his trophy and western winners before 1925 were added to the base . . . Calgary Stampede are there in two-time style, their successes embracing two seasons previous to this one.

Hal Thompson's injury is an unlikely . . . Alex Pringle snapped a rising shot at him late in the second heat and in trying to smother the rebound the lucky Reos' backboard twisted his back in a repetition of a similar stunt 10 days ago . . . His standing, Lionel Wright, saw service last season with Cornwall in the Quebec Provincial Circuit.

Paul Platt was easily tops in a Winnipeg sweater. He started with Fort Worth of the U.S. Wheel last October, returning to Winnipeg after getting his ticket from Tony Savage.

The injured Thompson led his teammates to the Flyer room to offer congratulations . . . Then it was too, too, too much for, quite awhile with such late fare as High Telephone—Bill Maher, Doug Lane, Harry Barkus, Roy Rimstad—Bill Sykes hitting it off in grand style . . . Among others to call on the victors were Jimmy Hill, Bill Carse, Sr., Mayor Alford, Dr. W. G. Hardy, Harry Scott, formerly one of the week's top sports writers; Henry Singer, Bob Price, Jack Glover and Dr. Al Hall.

Gone from Flyer thoughts was the prospect of a Tuesday game in Calgary, in the cards had Reos capped the nod. Strategists in the house shook heads over Coach Art Barnett's lack of foresight in not yanking netminder Wright when "Bug" Doug drew his penalty 21 seconds from the finish to face a forced-in in the Edmonton end. It looked like a good spot for a sixth forward what the Manitobaans needing one goal to knot the count . . . Flyers' mentor Frank Curry appeared to simulate a little when he heard that Flyer Kreller to handle the faccort rather than one of his barely defencemen, Doug Lane or Bud MacPherson.

Fred Smith twice fought the rubber from the Flyer zone as early MacPherson and then Young sat it out in the penalty box near the finish . . . In those final 10 minutes the visitors displayed their best form of the night . . . Paul Platt around the ice of the crowd by dropping Merluk to the freeze near the boards in the north end early in the second frame. All that the pair of principals proved the scoring heroes of the piece.

Whether by accident or design two policemen took up quarters in the shin-bait at the start of the second frame . . . Mike Yachuk (it appeared to be) speared Lane after the 19-second rearguard had notched his first period career and the later heated for the bench.

Alie Price, right in the thick of it, was the first to suggest that the former profligate scorer when Vancouver Canucks were in a hole in the third of it. The Saturday drag-along again offered proof that unless the competing teams are evenly matched a seven game series lasts mightily when it goes as far along as a fifth game . . . It took Flyers a big game grand to reach the Allan Cup finals . . . "Flyer" teams have done well what with Edmonton and Barrie still in it at this late date.

RCAF Helicopter Arrives In City

Will Be Used For Rescue Work In Northern Alberta

An RCAF helicopter, first ever to be seen in Edmonton, arrived at the airport today.

The aircraft, piloted by Flt-Lt. R. T. Heaslip of Oshawa, Ont., was brought to Edmonton for use by the RCAF in rescue work in northern Alberta.

It was flown here from Calgary. It was moving in two and one half hours, slightly faster than had been expected due to winds.

Other members of the three-man crew are Cpl. H. W. O'Brien, Toronto, air-frame mechanic, and Cpl. H. Brown, Ottawa, also a mechanic.

The helicopter was flown here from Ottawa, leaving there last Wednesday. It made 13 stops before reaching its destination.

PLANE OF SPOON
The craft has a large cockpit with plenty of room for its three-man crew.

It is about 30 feet long with a huge three-blade propeller on top of the cockpit. It also has a small propeller on the tail.

The aircraft has a cruising speed of about 75 or 80 miles per hour, the pilot said.

There is considerable more work to fly than one can do in it, he said.

TRAIN MEN HERE
Men will be trained to fly the new craft for work here.

The helicopter is one of three, but only the RCAF. One ready is in use on the east coast, the pilot said.

The plane can remain in the air for about three and one-half hours without refueling.

ANIMALS PROPOSED FOR U.S. CURRENCY

OMAHA, April 19.—(AP)—A chicken on every "back" and a porker on every $5 bill—that's the proposal of Cecil W. Moane, manager of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce agricultural department.

Moane said today currency of the United States ought to be a tribute to the industry that makes it a strong medium of exchange—agriculture.

He proposed that a picture of a chicken be printed on each $1 bill; that $5 bills carry a picture of a hog and that every $10 bill carry a picture of a Herford steer.

"It would be a lot better to let the people know that there's some livestock and food behind the bills, rather than a pile of gold at Fort Knox."

Edmonton Orchestra Gives Final Concert

Fifth and final concert for this season was given last night by Edmonton Philharmonic Orchestra in Strand Theatre. A large and enthusiastic audience both testified to the fact that these Sunday evening concerts by a "live" symphony are popular with Edmonton's citizens.

As Franks conducted and Alexander Nien was concertmaster, the orchestra gave a most excellent performance of it—for no ever good, can adequately take the place of the experience of actually hearing works of this calibre in the concert hall.

Sylvia Quatrochi played a Concerto for piano—accompanied with orchestral accompaniment with a beautiful and beautiful variety.

ORTHODOX FORM

The work, by Pietro Deino, was in orthodox classical form. It was an innovation to hear art music of this type performed on the accordion and Miss Quatrochi exploited the possibilities of the instrument to the full, with splendid control of dynamics.

L'Artesienne Suite, No. 1 by Blenard was played following the solo recital. It was a most interesting and original work, and the accordionist gave an opportunity to the string section of the orchestra to demonstrate fine tone. The Minuet lacked life being taken too slowly.

More vigorous attack in the finale section, Carillon, brought the suite to a satisfactory conclusion.

WELL ACCEPTED SELECTION

Prelude to La Traviata by Verdi, no fringed with melancholy, was a thoroughly acceptable selection in concert with the orchestra.

Concert ended with the overture by a South American composer, Antonio Carlos Gomes.

Night concert for this concert—performance of the last work from the repertoire.

REDS DRAFT German Troops

BERLIN, April 19.—(AP)—The German Socialist press claimed today the Russians are drafting young Germans in their zone into the Soviet army.

The newspaper "Social Democrat" declared it had such reports from two cities in the Russian zone—Frankfurt-On-Oder, and Jena. The paper said the Russians especially picked former Wehrmacht veterans who did not serve on the eastern front in the war.

NO COMMENT

No official Soviet comment was available on these reports. Previously the Russian-controlled press has dismissed such reports with the claim that Russia has enough men of its own.

Meanwhile, Russian-licensed papers here resurrected an old charge that the United States and Britain were forming a German army in the western part of the country.

The charge was attributed to a report in a Prague newspaper (Pravda) that the Czechoslovak army, it claimed the alleged army would serve under former German Field Marshal Gerd von Rundstedt and that he would have on his staff numerous German generals who have been living a history of the last war from German records.

Lewis Convicted In Contempt Case

On March 12 letter that the operators had "dishonored" the contract.

Three days later—on March 15—the soft coal miners walked out.

President Truman, acting under provisions of the Taft-Hartley law, then appointed a fact-finding board to study the dispute. It reported to him that the without was a strike which imperiled the nation's health and welfare.

On April 3, Truman, directed the justice department to obtain a Taft-Hartley law injunction that would have ended the walkout for 90 days.

The same day, Federal Judge Matthew McGuire issued a temporary order directing Lewis to call off the strike "forthwith."

When Lewis failed to comply immediately, the government asked that Lewis and the union be cited for contempt.

CALLED OFF APRIL 12

Lewis called off the strike last Monday—April 12—after getting a settlement of his pension dispute. The settlement grew out of a meeting arranged by House Speaker Joseph W. Martin, Jr., between Lewis and Ezra van Horn, operator trustee of the pension fund. But not all the miners returned to work.

In a key section of his opinion, Goldsborough said:

"As long as an union is functioning as a union, it must be held responsible for the many actions of its members. Men don't act collectively without leadership. The suggestion that 350,000 men would get the idea simultaneously to walk out collectively, is, of course, simply ridiculous."

Goldsborough ruled that Lewis actually had called a strike when he advised UMW locals on March 12 that the soft coal operators had "dishonored" their contract in the pension dispute.

LETTER SAID 'CODE'

The judge said Lewis March 12 letter was in effect a "code" telling them to strike.

"The miners walked out when told the agreement was dishonored," Goldsborough said. "They go back when told the agreement was honored. Can that be anything else than a code?"

By-the-by did you see the beautiful white crepe negligee in one of the shop windows last week? It was trimmed with wide frothy, coffee-colored lace at the throat and edges of the bracelet-length sleeves. Around the $20 mark I believe.

Just as important as gathering the trouseau is filling the hope chest and it takes a while of a lot of pennies to buy enough linens for the whole lot for the whole of today.

Sheets are selling, just ordinary ones too, for at least $3.50 a pair. Quality pillow slips for around $2.00 a pair—that is if you'll forego any lace.

Clearance sales of luncheon cloths help a bit. You can buy a set of rayon, 36 by 36 breakfast cloths for $1.95 in one store. They launder beautifully—nice change a few away for the new kitchen.

For those whose happy home will consist of a tiny two-room apartment—there is a new-type lounge chair suitable to one wide comely bed or twin bed.

There are sofas in a level furniture store. One I saw was upholstered in French blue.

Our kitchen these days could easily be confused with a junkyard. A package of plants with a week or so to go and they seem to have had a most remarkable effect on the three middle Bonapoles on the street.

The plants have grown to such proportions that you have to stand on a chair to look out the window.

The pills are supposed to be the dole out at two-week intervals and I gave ours a triple dosage—just to be sure.

See—there is no real cause for alarm—things are back in the store and you can buy for far less than what you'd pay for the same quality—ready-made.

There's more and more of that pretty little glassware "round and round" these days. A cream and sugar bowl costs you $2.50. Big glass ashtrays, $1.50. A candle-holder around $1.75 makes a beautiful centerpiece.

With loads of summer sunning and hours of lazing in the backyard, not so very far away—think it will be an effort to do anything but stare and purchase about three cans and wood garden chairs—can you imagine the fun you can have with so much cheerful sunshine?

This idea may seem a bit previous in light of the chilling lightning through the days, but they are too self-indulgent to do.

Parasitism is a vice into which is very easy for parents to fall. There are many fathers and mothers, for instance, who do liberally part to make their children support them when they are adults.

There is no doubt of the fact that they choose to exercise any thrift or save anything but they are too self-indulgent to do.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Child's Likes, Dislikes Should Be Respected

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

A parent can go to so many extremes of control, neither of which is desirable. One is to make the child do everything she serves, whether he wants it or likes it. The other is to give him whatever he wants whether it is good for him or not.

The parent who denies her child anything that he wants and is so conscientious, perfectionist mother, who is too inflexible to allow for any deviations from the proper diet outlined for her, she wants for it for her child's health.

PARENT HAS COMPLEX
The parent who indulges her child's whimsy at all, suffering from a complex about them. It is quite possible that they may be and inconvenience her, and she feels guilty about this.

There is a happy middle ground that exists neither on extreme or the other. Children are entitled to respect for their individual likes and dislikes. The good mother will see that they get plenty of things they like, and will not force them to eat what she doesn't like.

Neither will she put in their inappetent hands the plating of food that she doesn't like. She will plan meals which provide a balance of the food elements which they need for good nutrition.

In every household food is a precious item and needs to be conserved and used. The mother who is practical takes into account that the money is not a hotel and meals are served, not ordered.

The parent who goes so far as to push distasteful food on a child in the interest of good nutrition, or the mother who gives the child the privilege of ordering what he wants to eat, has both best extremes their motives and ask themselves why they have abandoned good sense and good judgment.

Our Infant No. 35 "Poor Appetite," may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to your request to Myrtle Meyer, published in care of The Edmonton Bulletin.

What's in the cards for you?
Fill the cards and add to the general hilarity with a card fortune for everyone.

A good way to start things rolling is to announce a "Card Lottery." Everybody wants to know when he can get his weekly draw will be, and you can at least give them all something to speculate on.

Place the whole deck of 52 cards in a hat and draw everyone to draw a card. The person holding the highest card will be first to march down that evening's table.

The one holding the lowest will have a bit of a wait before the evening's hunting.

In the case of ties, hearts are higher than diamonds; diamonds, then clubs, clubs, then spades. Or, using the same sure of drawing the cards from a hat, you can tell an individual fortune for each card picked. Here, however, you have to make a list of meanings for each card and use your discretion when interpreting the meanings.

There are wonderful ways of telling fortunes for fun in our "Reader's Digest" book.

Plans Completed For Memorial Hall

High Prairie Legion Proceeds With Erection Modern Building

HIGH PRAIRIE, April 15.—Plans for the beautiful and impressive new memorial hall for High Prairie district have been completed by the Canadian Legion committee, consisting of Carson Fawcett, chairman, Jack Powell, George Wilson and Fred Spence.

Wicket, space for general offices, library and check rooms will be on the right side of the entrance, with wash rooms on the left.

Steps from the main entrance lead to the main ball room and gymnasium, 70 by 90 feet, and which will have a balcony on each side, 12 feet above the floor. The balcony itself will be 14 feet wide, giving space for serving refreshments. The stage will be 24 by 16 feet at the rear of the main hall.

TWO LODGE ROOMS

There also will be a full size basement, with provision for two lodge rooms and auto rooms. There will be a banquet room, which also can be used as a gym, with kitchen and lunch wicket adjoining. Plans also call for a canteen and locker rooms.

The old Canadian Legion hall, which had proved too small, has been sold to Canadian Catholics for $5,000 and this sum will help considerably in building the new hall. Some material already has been secured and work will commence at an early date.

COMMUNITY PROJECT

Canada Legion has undertaken to erect a memorial for the use of this community's children. It will have facilities for recreation and the public an adequate hall for gathering for various occasions.

The veterans are doing this for the community, not just as a convenience for their own children, but to help the support of every citizen in erecting a building to serve the community.

Canadian Sketches in Bruck Fabric

Hand-Screened Prints from the Original Designs of a Contemporary Canadian Artist

Once again "Bruck" fabrics make fashion-news! EATON'S is happy to present the first series of strictly Canadian prints, based on a Canadian theme. Hand-screened on soft rayon crepe, these prints reflect the Canadian point of view, in a subtle blending of color skillfully blended with dramatically designed patterns depicting some of Canada's loveliest scenic spots.

You'll find signs of a favorite season... "CANADIAN AUTUMN," The "DOUGLAS FIR" is beautifully superimposed on a pastel, Rousseau background of mountain and lakes. A "PRAIRIE SKY" speaks for itself, sweeping designs of sky and cloud contrasting a waving wheat motif. "CANADIAN SUMMER" is a gentle, all-over design of apple trees and blossoms scattered over topography maps of Canada. A charming conversational print is "QUEBEC" quietly reminiscent of Canada's oldest province, and "MARITIMES" is a fabric design inspired by the quaint little fisheries of Canada's coasts. Softly subdued pastels, greens, yellows, mushrooms, mooses, and palest greens blend and contrast with bold bright reds, greens, blues, golds and fuchsias. Approx. width 38", see McCall Pattern No. 728. YARD, $1.98
